Raymond Chan

Acting Director, Investment Funds and Structured Products Branch
Ontario Securities Commission (OSC)

Raymond Chan is currently the Acting Director of the Investment Funds and Structured Products Branch at the Ontario Securities Commission (OSC). Raymond has been in the Investment Funds area since joining the OSC in 2001. He has a Master of Accounting and a Bachelor of Mathematics from the University of Waterloo. Raymond is a Chartered Professional Accountant and a CFA charterholder.

In conjunction with the Canadian Securities Administrators, the Investment Funds and Structured Products Branch is responsible for all aspects of the regulation of investment products, including the review of prospectuses, considering applications for discretionary relief and developing investment fund regulation and policy. The Branch also monitors and responds to emerging product developments and innovations in the investment fund industry.
